TOTER SAME RIFLE AS IN 1914

TORONTO—Private James Davis of the Veterans' Home Guard here is doing guard duty today with the same old Ross rifle he toted about the same camp back in 1915. Detailed to hand out Ross rifles to a platoon of men he wiped the protective vaseline off one rifle butt and noticed his initials cut into the wood. He had done the carving in 1915 as a member of the 75th Battalion of the C.E.F.

PACKARD TO MAKE ENGINES

WASHINGTON—The National defense commission announced Saturday that the Packard Motor Company has agreed tentatively to undertake a contract for 9,000 aircraft engines for Great Britain and 3,000 for the United States.

Henry Ford refused the order, saying he would produce only for the defense of the United States. W.M. Gilman, Packard president, said his company's Detroit plant would be increased and prepared to begin actual production 10 months from the date the contract is actually signed.

END OF UNEMPLOYMENT

"There is every likelihood in my opinion that the expenditure of $700 million and more, for the construction of the very large amounts which this country, while spending in the United Kingdom is spending in this country, will be every body able and willing to do the work needed for military service will find an opportunity for productive employment."—Hon. J.L. Ralston in the budget speech.

WORK WITHOUT PAY

Not a cent of commission is being paid to postmasters, bank clerks, institutions and commercial organizations which are selling war savings certificates and war savings stamps to the public. Nor is there any public expense involved in the work of the men who are organizing and sustaining these projects both at headquarters in Ottawa and at branches throughout the Dominion.

GENERAL MOTORS FACTORIES

Three factories of General Motors have thrown their weight into Canada's war effort in collaboration with the War Supply Board and the British Purchasing Mission. This week an additional sum of $1,297,000 was appropriated by the company for factory rearrangement, bringing to $3,000,000 the amount spent on plant adjustment since February. A stream of army trucks being driven by military men in khaki, enormous daily shipments of munitions and tooling for production of component parts for the armored Universal carrier (Bron gun) all demonstrate the effectiveness of the Company's industrial contribution to date. The new expansion program indicates that high production speeds of the immediate future when the larger units will roll off the assembly line every few minutes.

ELEVATOR COMPANIES ARE NOT IN FAVOR OF SCRAPPING RAILWAYS

In order to assist farmers in retaining railway facilities in closest proximity to their farms the Line Elevator Companies have engaged counsel to oppose applications of the Railways for abandonment of certain branch lines in Western Canada. The Board of Transportation Commissioners are now holding hearings on these abandonment proposals. The North-West Line Elevator Association has engaged A.S. Morrison, K.C., and W.C. Hamilton, K.C., to appear at these sessions. Counsel for the Line Elevators have prepared strong cases for the retention of great mileage rail service for the benefit of the Western crop. It is recognized that any abandonment of rail lines will add to the farmers' cost of operation.

In connection with recent application for abandonment of a branch line, Mr. Morrison presented the case in opposition to the abandonment on behalf of the companies and their farmer customers. It was pointed out that abandonment of the Line would cause a loss of the 5,000 tons of grain and haulage costs; would involve the expense of erecting farm granaries and would result in depreciation in value of farm lands which were deprived of reasonable railway service. A strong point against abandonment was made in stressing the fact that the shipments made to the coast during a period of 20 years should be taken rather than shipments in recent years when shortages of rail drought and grainshippers visited the districts. In addition to the loss to farmers there would be large numbers of persons thrown out of work in the abandoned towns and villages, coupled with the loss of investment by persons owning properties at these points. The railways do not propose to compensate the farmers for the losses for losses incurred through abandonment of railway lines. Applications are being made by the railways for permission to abandon the following lines:

Muir to Delton; Beulah; West Tower to Delta; Aokland to Cawdor; Muir to Gladstone; Hamiota to Minniskaming; Havelock to Niverville; Saskatchewan; Reston to Wolsley; Alberta; Irricana to Betsker; Trefle Junction to Mortville; Niverville to Alton; Carleton Place to Egmont; Langdon to Irricana.

There are 53 towns and villages located along these branch lines. It was pointed out by the Line Elevators to preserve the railroads for the farmers adjacent to these communities and businesses which have been established in them.

Calcutta—British authorities announced demobilization of the French East Mediterranean fleet based at Egypt on July 10. The fleet, which included an account of unceasing aerial pounding of Italian land, sea and air bases in the Mediterranean and North Africa. The operations during the week-end were aimed at the goal Prime Minister Churchill set up for the Royal Navy and Air Force when he promised the House of Commons: "We shall take the necessary steps to maintain command of the Mediterranean."

THE WORLD OF WHEAT REVIEWED WEEKLY BY MAJOR H.G.L. STRANGE

The Canadian Seed Growers' Association has just held its thirty-third annual convention. Seed growers devoted to producing the 5,000 tonnes of seed, came from every province in Canada, and for three days discussed ways and means of making quantities of high quality true-to-variety seed available to farmers, at reasonable prices, so that Canadian field crops could be improved.

The beginnings of the Association date from 1899, and spring from the vision of the late Dr. James W. Robertson, then Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture—a great man if ever there was one. In later years, looking back at that work that had been done by seed growers, Dr. Robertson remarked: "Many thousands more men now engaged in seed growing, not merely men grain but that seed means a contained life. It means the quality of the contained life, which gives the plant, rising from the seed, commensurate power to overcome obstacles, garnering from air, sun and soil, strength and beauty and grain with the capacity to perform that function for us. The men who have studied seed, and has obtained an insight into the meanings of life, will believe in relationships in a wider and nobler way."

SLAIN BUFFALO NETTED $60,000

At Buffalo National Park, Calgary, 2,918 Buffalo, 113 moose, 150 elk and 242 deer were killed while 18 buffalo were killed at Banff National Park and seven at Prince Albert National Park.

The sale of meat and hides at Buffalo National Park, which is in Canada, is intended to Canada Packers at $5.75 a hundredweight for choice quality, $4.75 for other grades. The hides are sold at $2.50 for aged and bony quality suitable only for processing.

30 MILLION TONS OF SALT

That is the world consumption of salt according to a statistician who states that this amount of coarse salt would cover a square mile of land to a depth of 30 feet and yet could be obtained by evaporation from one-half of a cubic mile of sea water. It is an amazing fact that in Canada, and in all of Western Ontario, there is enough salt to last the world, should all other sources fail, for close to 100,000 years.

ORDERS EXPLAINED TO GERMANS AND ITALIANS WHO MUST REGISTER

Further to the notice appearing a couple of weeks ago that all Germans or Italians by birth must register, it is now explained that the orders are not as onerous as they are sometimes made out to be. "All persons over the age of sixteen years, coming within the category of 'Alien' hereunder are, by virtue of Regulations 24, 25, 26 (a) and (b) of the Immigration and Registration Regulations, required to report for registration at the office of the Registrar of Enemy Aliens, nearest to which they reside, accompanied where necessary, by an interpreter. ## CHEMICAL WARFARE ON FLIES

Research laboratories which test the efficacy of a new synthetic death-dealing gas for insect sprays, are opposed to the old-fashioned methods of waiting to rid homes of quarters of flies. The danger, they claim, lies in the fact that germs remain on the body of the fly. The lethal chemical method, as carried out in the laboratory is recommended. This method is to close all windows and doors, fill the room with an evenly distributed mist from a spray gun and after ten minutes or so, the dead can be swept up, cremated or buried.

Mrs. S. Evans suffered an attack of appendicitis while holidaying at Camp Chief Hector and was taken to the General hospital in Calgary, where she underwent an operation on Friday.

FISH-SKINS PROVIDE COATS

German propaganda is making strenuous efforts to popularize fashions in fish-skins. Wood, cotton and leather running dangerously short, German technicians have developed substitutes. Three special fashion institutes—one in Berlin, another in Vienna and a third in Frankfurt—have designers working out new styles. Reproductions in the Frankfurt style show gloves and coats made from fish-skins, shoes from flexible glass and suits from substitute cloth.

OVER INCH OF MOISTURE FALLS LAST WEEK IN A 'MILLION DOLLAR RAIN'

What is interpreted to be a 'million dollar rain,' fell over the Carbon district last week, commencing Thursday morning and continuing until Friday, being over an inch of moisture to growing crops. The rain soaked down to the reserve moisture and ample precipitation is assured which crops for the next two or three weeks. There is now rapidly loading out and growth is remarkable despite the three-weeks wet-back this spring due to late seeding operations.

Grasshoppers have not shown any serious outbreak this year and they are not expected to cause any damage to crops in the Carbon district. The bait-mixing station was not opened this summer, and it is to be hoped that control of this pest is now complete.

The regular meeting of the Council of the Municipal district of Carbon was held on Tuesday, July 2, with all councillors present and Reeve John R. McEwen in the chair.

Mr. Hill of the Salvation Army was present and asked the council for a special grant for rescue work and war work. A communication was also read from the National War Campaign of the Y.M.C.A., requesting a grant, and both requests were tabled until future are available later in the year.

A letter from the P.E.R.A. advised that a municipality will not be given funds under this plan at the present time.

APPLAUD BRITISH ACTION AGAINST FRENCH FLEET

New York.—The New York Herald Tribune said there can be "no doubt" as to history's verdict on the action of Prime Minister Churchill in ordering action by the Royal Navy against the French fleet and added that there can be "even less" as to that of the United States.

Approving the British action, the newspaper said editorially: "It has shown the British democracy at last capable of acting in its own defence with the premeditated decision, the bold disregard of small fears and traditional forms, the aggressive power to grasp the fundamental of the situation and the effective will to victory which the Nazis themselves have displayed."

"And the British action has at the same time thrown the total military bankruptcy of the 'rich' government into a memorable and inescapable relief. The government which could betray its ally as the government did and then convert itself into the tool, which this episode shows it to be, of Nazi conquest, is no longer France."

"Great Britain... is fighting now for life. Those who are with her, those who are against her, may take their chances with what ever future Hitler may allot them. They will not be able to do so. Great Britain now has the moral strength to which all free men—Frenchmen or not—German or American—can respond."

"Great Britain has found at last the one thing which the democratic world have lacked: the ability to take the consequences, the will to victory whatever the cost, the ability to take over whatever risks are necessary."

"That spirit entitles them to every aid which this country can give them, and it means that the struggle, entered upon this heroic plane can yet be won."

The New York Times declared editorially: "Whatever bitterness will be visited in France by this tragedy, allied upon a vast tragedy, fair-minded opinion will agree that the British were right in what they did."

The Boston Globe, in approving the British action, expressed commendation for Mr. Churchill personally, saying: "The latest decision shows he still possesses the courage and audacity for decisive action."

Said the Kansas City Star: "In the circumstances, the British were forced to move swiftly. The terms they offered were extremely fair."

Most responsible Americans will cheer the Churchill government for resorting to the drastic action which it took to meet the emergency."

Baltimore Evening Sun: "The tragedy of the British naval action to prevent the French fleet from getting into German hands is that it must appear to many as a bitter blow among bittered faithless. Actually, of course, the French fleet acts under Hitler's orders spoken by the mouth of a Frenchman who has no choice but to utter them."

Washington Evening Star: "It is tragic, of course, that events should have precipitated the shocking spectacle of French and British warships, so recently allied in a common cause, engaging in mortal combat. But for England to have stood by supinely while French warships were being delivered into the hands of an unscrupulous enemy, whose record of treachery is notorious, would have been beyond comprehension."

Battling Forest Fires

Forestry Officials Describe Situation in British Columbia as Serious Vancouver, B.C.—Forestry officials described British Columbia's forest fire situation as "mighty hazardous" as nearly 500 men fought a dozen blazes throughout the province during nearly a month without effective rainfall.

More than 100 men were battling a 1,000-acre blaze at Horse Lake, between Alberni and Qualicum. Another 25 struggled to control a blaze on Cowichan Lake. At Cranbrook, ashes were swept into the town from a fire raging over a stretch seven miles long and three and a half miles wide near Lumby, B.C., south-west of Cranbrook. More than 200 men were fighting it.

Falkland Islands Help.

London.—Legislative council of the Falkland Islands has decided to transfer stock valued at £50,000 ($222,000) to the British government for the purchase of military equipment. The colonial office was advised by the governor.

Canadian Troops

Recommends They Be Chosen For Defense Of Britain

London.—Lord Mottistone, who as "Jack" Reilly commanded the Canadian cavalry in the first Great War, suggested in the House of Lords that Canadian troops should be chosen to engage the enemy if he lands in Britain because of their "more novel conception of warfare."

He recommended the Canada soldiers not because he served with them in the last war for 2½ years, and so know their value, but because amongst those Canadian divisions—these also applies to other divisions overseas where there are wider aspects—there are people with more novel conception of warfare."

Lord Mottistone said he had made the suggestion to a Canadian officer with a distinguished record, who had replied "That just suits me."

He was introducing a motion in the upper house asking the government to take prompt action to increase the offensive power and equipment of the citizens of Britain. Equipment has been greatly increased, he declared, but the method of meeting an invasion needed more consideration.

"I've seen ridiculous tank traps barbed wire and so on along the beaches which would prevent our men from going down to engage the enemy," he said. "What's the good of that?"

Lord Mottistone suggested that an Australian division be given the job of dealing with enemy troops attempting to land from the air.

Decorated By King George

Widow Of Captain Warburton-Lee Receives Victoria Cross

London.—King George decorated with the Victoria Cross the widow of Captain W. Warburton-Lee, who commanded the British destroyer flotilla in the first battle of Narvik last April 10 when Germany invaded Norway.

Warburton-Lee ordered the attack on German-held Narvik when the ministry put him on his own. As shell hit the bridge of his ship, the destroyer Hardy, and wounded him mortally. The Hardy was run aground and the Hunter was sunk and two other destroyers were damaged, but the Germans lost six supply ships, one destroyer was torpedoed and three others were set ashore.

Alberta Enlistments

Edmonton.—Enlistments for the Royal Canadian Air Force in Edmonton during June month were trebled those of the previous month. It was revealed in figures released here. London.—An "amazon defence corps" is being formed by the government to permit women to serve with local defence volunteers as home guards.

For the first time in the history of the law school at Melbourne University, Australia, highest honors in scholarships have been won by a woman.

MAD SCRAMBLE FOR LIFE BOATS AS PRISON SHIP SINKS

London.—One thousand persons were estimated to have drowned in the torpedoing off Ireland by a German submarine of the Canada-bound British liner Arandora Star, jammed with German and Italian internees. The liner was taking the internees from the Dominion, where a group of war prisoners arrived just recently. Many survivors said a "hysterical scramble" and "cattle-like efforts" to push into lifeboats were responsible for the heavy casualties.

"Germans and Italians fought and kicked each other in efforts to save their own necks," said a Welsh soldier who was aboard as a guard. "The Hungs were the worst offenders. Some of them had to be forcibly restrained."

It was not known for certain whether a German or an Italian submarine destroyed the liner. But the fact the sinking was reported in the Berlin communication indicated a German craft was responsible.

The Arandora Star was relatively small but one of the world's finest and most luxurious cruising vessels before the war.

She was used for round-the-world cruises annually and also made a Christmas trip to the Mediterranean and an autumn Baltic cruise.

At the peak of her glory she had a garden deck, magnificent period furniture and a swimming pool.

British United Press said hundreds of lives were lost when the Germans and Italians battled in wild panic to escape in the lifeboats after the torpedoing. The ship was torpedoed without warning.

One report said that at least 800 German and Italian aliens were drowned. Aboard the ship were about 1,500 German and Italian sailors, rounded up in wholesale lots in the British Isles to curb fifth column activities. There was also a crew of 300 and 200 British military men on board. Of the 2,000 total, about one-half are unaccounted for.

Survivors describe how Germans and Italians fought like wild men for places in the small boats. One German hit an Italian on the head with an iron bar in the scramble.

One British survivor said: "It seemed that the ship was hit only once, but the effect was devastating. The sides caved in and while compartments were destroyed, we cursed and the Germans and Italians more than cursed that U-boat."

Survivors praised one gallant German who was in a lifeboat which overturned. "He took command of the situation," a crew member reported. "He marshalled the others in the water, righted the boat and then swam around rescuing those who were left."

Others among the prisoners, however, scrambled so violently for positions in the boats, according to one survivor, that many of the British soldiers and sailors had no chance to get into them and had to jump and trust to luck.

Oath Of Allegiance

Not Expected To Be Obstacle To Enlistment Of Americans

Ottawa.—Possible loss of citizenship through taking the oath of allegiance to the King is not expected to prove a serious obstacle to enlistment of American citizens in the armed forces of Canada it was learned.

Officials of the national department declined to say what changes were being made but intimated the problem of the oath of allegiance had been solved so far as enlistment was concerned.

Narrow Escape

R.A.F. Observer Thrown Out Of Plane, But Clings To Door

London.—An air ministry bulletin told of the hair-breadth escape of an observer in a Royal Air Force bomber during a night raid over Hamburg when oil storage tanks were attacked successfully.

Bursting shipwreck from anti-aircraft guns blew open the door of one attacking aircraft, almost hurling the observer into space. He hung on grimly to the edge of the door. "Some moments later he was with difficulty pulled back into the aircraft, suffering from slight shock but otherwise unhurt," said the bulletin. "Later he was able to resume his duties."

The crew of the first aircraft over the target reported that "our first two bombs missed by 100 yards but the third registered a hit which was followed by a fire explosion."

Pilots of another R.A.F. plane returning from a raid over Germany described in the report on account of engine trouble but managed to get out an SOS before the machine succumbed to the anti-aircraft fire. The crew scrambled out into their dinghy, and finally was picked up by a rescue launch after 13½ hours on the water.

British Fleet In Grim Battle With The French Navy

London.—Guns of the British fleet blasted French warships that refused to surrender in north Atlantic waters. Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons in a dispatch that the British had scored three British battleships, six cruisers, eight destroyers and many smaller vessels, including the world's largest submarine, the Surcouf.

The fate of the French ships was listed as follows by the prime minister.

Oran.—A battleship of the 28-000 tonnage type was sunk; a sister ship was heavily damaged; two destroyers and an aircraft carrier were sunk in the north Atlantic waters. The battle cruiser Strasbourg or Dunkerque hit by a torpedo but, with some other French warships, fled and reached Toulon.

In British ports—Two French battleships, two light cruisers, a number of submarines and about 200 smaller craft were seized. One French officer and a British sailor were killed and two British officers, one British sailor and one French officer were wounded in taking over the 2,880-ton Surcouf.

Alexandria.—A French battleship, four cruisers and a number of smaller ships were held in port on British orders.

About 800 or 900 French sailors joined up with the British. They have a number of submarines, Churchill said, and such French ships are not in British hands will be relentlessly pursued.

Churchill, his eyes filling with tears as he completed the story of the French war against the British, said that he feared a heavy loss of life among the French at Oran because of the power of the British fleet.

As a result of the operations, he said, a large part of the French fleet has fallen into British hands or been put out of action, while "the Italian fleet kept presently out of the way."

He said that the necessary steps to maintain command of the Mediterranean, Churchill said just before commencing sent into secret session.

The prime minister again denied that there was any talk of peace Germany.

The British attack was accompanied by heavy attacks from aircraft from the Ark Royal.

Two French destroyers and an airplane carrier were sunk or burning.

One battle cruiser, either the Strasbourg or Dunkerque, succeeded in sailing out of the harbor pursued by the aircraft. She was hit by one torpedo but was joined by other French vessels, all of which reached Toulon before being sunk or run ashore.

"The Dunkerque was at any rate kept out of action for many months to come."

The French ships fought with the characteristic courage of the French.

"I fear the loss of life among the French and in the harbor must have been heavy as we were compelled to use very severe measures and numerous explosions were observed."

The British ships were affected in gunpower or mobility by the heavy fire."

Refugee Money

Pouring Across Atlantic From War-Harassed Europe

New York.—Tales of a great trek of refugees money across the Atlantic from war-harassed Europe are hidden behind banking figures, showing that a "big" sum in big War Street banks had swollen to record-breaking totals.

Mid-year conditions disclosed deposits in the Chase National bank alone had increased to $3,190,823 compared with $3,060,740,000 in the bank in the year ended June 30, 1933.

In mid-year 1933, Chase deposits amounted to $1,352,000,000, at the turn before the big climb from the depression lows and the start of the foreign money shift from Europe.

BOMB EXPLOSION CAUSES HAVOC AT WORLD'S FAIR

New York.—A flame-throwing bomb, disintegrated in a portable tank, killed two detectives and injured five others—two critically—after they had been fired from the pavilion in the British pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

The blast tore a hole five feet wide and four feet deep in the ground of the foreign section of the fair and sent fear through the holiday crowd of more than 168,000 visitors.

The bomb police said it was a time-devised spread destruction device two days after a mysterious voice in a telephone call had ordered the British pavilion, which had been "set to get out of the building, were going to be blown to bits."

Killed in the blast were Detectives James Egan of the Bronx and Ferdinand Schoa of Brooklyn. In critical condition were Detective William J. P. Sullivan, 26, of the Bronx, and Joseph Gallagher of Brooklyn.

Legs of both men were broken, each severely burned and cut, and one leg's skull possibly was fractured.

The bomb had been secreted in the fan room on the second floor of the pavilion.

It had been there since the previous day, ignored, because an employee believed it belonged to a showman.

William Strachan, the pavilion's head electrician, took the case to Cyril Rowling, assistant to the British commissioner-general, Cecil M. Pichler.

"I heard a ticking noise," said Rowling.

The bomb was taken by them to a spot in the rear of the pavilion to be placed against a heavy wire mesh fence.

Curious fair-goers were kept away from the case with difficulty.

Police discovered a cardboard box within the case, and were preparing to continue their examination when the blast occurred.

Some police 50 feet away were burned in the sheet of flame that spread fanwise over the ground, and others were injured by flying splinters of metal. Pieces of clothing were blown 75 yards from the spot. Nearly all were knocked flat.

A skeleton in the Polish candy shop, Josephine Chmielek, who witnessed the blast, said it was a terrible explosion. "The men were men near the bomb when it went off. All of them were hit. Then three were lying down, two were trying to crawl away, holding their faces. Oh, it was horrible."

Adequate Labor Supply

Matter Of Great Importance For Carrying On War Work

Ottawa.—Stressing the necessity of training along the right lines in order to maintain an adequate labor supply for war industries, the labor minister, Hon. Norman MacLarty told members of the National Labor Supply council that the situation in Europe made Canada, increasingly important as a centre of production of war materials. He said the transfer of labor from non-war industry might be considered as a matter of great importance.

The advisory council held its first meeting, under chairmanship of J. H. Hills, chief of personnel of the Canadian National Railways, and laid the ground work for future deliberations.

ENJOY ITS GENUINE MINT FLAVOR

It's good for you, too. It helps keep teeth bright and attractive. Dentists recommend it.

"I was thinking that, too," laughed the girl. "He frightened me terribly the night he came to the flat. I mean, when I opened the door to him. And I'm not easily scared. He looked so big and powerful and ruthless that my very soul covered before him."

They passed up deserted Long Acres. It was too early for the market yet, and they had assembled, and the street was a wilderness. Suddenly the girl found her hand held kindly in Jim's. He was swinging it to and fro in the way that children have when they walk hand-in-hand. The severer side of Miss Alton Rivers closed its eyes and pretended not to see.

"I've got a very friendly feeling for you," said Jim huskily. "I don't know why, but I just have. And if you talk about the philanthropic constabulary, I will never forgive you."

Three men had suddenly debouched from a side street; they were talking noisily and violently, and they were moving slowly toward them. Jim looked round: the only man in sight was the only man in sight, having passed him a minute or so before.

"I think we'll cross the road," he said, and she ran, and quickening his step, almost led her to the opposite sidewalk.

CHAPTER X.

In the days which followed, Jim Carlton was a busy man, and only once during the week did he find time to see Alton Rivers, the relation of one of the minor troubles of life. A new bonder had come to the establishment, where she lived, an athletic young man who occupied the room immediately beneath hers, and whose apparent admiration took the form of following her to her work every morning at a respectful distance.

"I should have found a way of making a point of being in the neighborhood of the office when I come out for lunch and when I go home at night."

"Has he spoken to you?" asked Jim, interested.

"Oh, yes, he has been most correct. He doesn't even speak at meals."

"Bear with him," said Jim. "Two weeks he has to wait."

Using Insecticides

Reducing Losses In Field And Garden
Crops As Well As Trees

Insecticides are the substances used in the chemical control of insects and related pests. They are widely employed in every branch of agriculture, and in the Prairie Provinces serve not only as an effective instrument in reducing losses in field and garden crops but also in preventing serious damage to shade trees and shelterbelt plantations by many tree pests.

Generally speaking, insecticides are divided into two classes—contact poisons and contact poisons, states Lloyd Peterson, Officer in Charge, Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Indian Head, Sask. This classification is based on the way in which the insecticides enter the body of a pest to cause death. Stomach poisons, contact poisons, and contact poisons are also arsenate, calcium arsenate and Paris green, are only effective if they are eaten, whereas contact poisons such as nicotine sulphate, pyrethrum, sulphur, lime sulphur and oil emulsions kill only by coming in contact with the pest's body. The breathing pores or penetrating the thin membranous portions of its skin.

The significance of stomach and contact poisons, and the importance of knowing their limitations becomes apparent when it is considered that contact poisons, such as arsenate, calcium arsenate and Paris green, are only effective if they are eaten, whereas contact poisons such as nicotine sulphate, pyrethrum, sulphur, lime sulphur and oil emulsions kill only by coming in contact with the pest's body. ### Sign Posts In Britain

Historic Posts In All Parts of The Country Should Be Preserved

Now that signposts are being removed or rendered indecipherable, a correspondent hopes that care will be taken with the many curious or historic posts found in all parts of the country so that in happier times they can be either placed in museums or restored to their rightful positions on the road. Amongst these signposts of particular interest is the "Fiddling Hen", near Tewkesbury, with its inscription:

Edmund Atwood of the Vine Tree, At first erected here, And freely he did this best, Strange travelers the way to show.

Then there is the wooden post at Bournemouth, near Lichfield, dated 1777, and pointed out by the locals as the oldest in England, although near Chipping Campden is one apparently up in 1669. It is said to mark the site of a gibbet where once swung the body of a man executed for the alleged murder of his master, who was later found to be alive. A modern type of post that usually catches the eye of travelers is one in Dorset pointing the way to "id Handley", an abbreviation for the name of the village of Slapton Hamlet—Manley—Gusman.

He saw the girl to her lodgings and went back to Scotland Yard, and a telegram awaiting him. It was from the detective force of Birmingham, and ran:

Her husband killed in war, July 5th, 1915, Hooge, Flanders.

A great deal of this information was not new to Jim Carlton. But the Newwood postmark was invaluable for in that suburb of London lived Mr. Ellerybury.

But before that clue could be followed, Jim Carlton's attention was wholly occupied by the strange behavior of Arthur Ingle, who suddenly turned reclusive, declined all commun-

Food Shortage In Europe

Herbert Hoover Predicts Most Distasteful Famine In Europe

Herbert Hoover merged his war relief experience of 20 years ago and his observations on present conditions abroad into a prediction that the worst of the most disastrous famine in history "hangs over Europe."

If the present war is a short one, he said, there will be a "short famine," but if it continues for many months the problem of Europe's millions will be unparalleled in the history of human suffering. The Belgian city of Brussels, Hoover added, probably will be without food in 30 to 60 days unless aid is provided.

He said he had communicated with Germany, Great Britain and the "refuge government" of Belgium seeking consent for some "third party intervention" to feed the starving. Private charity could not handle the situation, he declared, recalling that last $25,000,000 a month to feed Belgium in the last war.

Common House Fly

A Well Proven Fact Is That Flies And Good Health Cannot Exist Together

The distaste and malice that can be attributed to the common house fly can hardly be overated. It has been shown by laboratory tests that more than 30 different disease organisms are carried by these pests. Also, that the bacteria on the hairy body of a single fly is sufficient to infect an entire household. Yet, in spite of warnings by medical authorities, the people fail to accept the fly's existence and tolerate its presence as an inevitable nuisance during sunny days and warm weather.

Every year, unfortunately, we pay dearly for this indifference with outbreaks of infectious diseases. The simple reason that these germ carriers, born and matured in filth, eventually transmit this dirt to drinks and food left uncovered. Summer dysentery and other infant malaries have often been traced to ordinary house flies.

While several methods have been devised to control this deadly menace, the most successful is, in fact, practically impossible to completely eliminate it. As individuals, however, we can accomplish a good deal towards stamping out the danger in our homes by getting rid of any flies that happen to get in.

A very effective, convenient and inexpensive method is to trap the flies with Sweden's Fly Pads. One or four of these, placed in strategic points throughout the house, will work quickly, cleanly and kill all the flies. This precaution should start with the first sign of the fly season and continue throughout the summer months.

If every home and eating place adopted this precautionary measure, the menace to our health—and thus make our community a safer, cleaner place to live in.

ALBERTA STANDS FIRST

"Alberta stands first in Canada, in provincial organization under the national-wide War Savings Plan," John Burns, chairman of the War Savings Committee for Alberta, stated today on his return from a business trip east, in the course of which he conferred with the National War Savings Committee in Ottawa.

"However, we must not be satisfied," the provincial chairman cautioned, especially in view of these recent developments in Europe. Britain is now the lost European bulwark of freedom. It is at home the ring of the War Savings slogan in Alberta, "Democracy or Dictatorship—Which?" has, morally been brought home to us.

"It looks like a long pull. Neither these who have accepted responsibility in the work, nor the people of Alberta, can afford to slack up after first enthusiasm. When we have reached any mark we have set for ourselves, we must set a higher mark. Canada needs our dollars now, and we will need them later. The big thing right now, and until the war is won, is for us all to become War Savers to the limit, and keep at it."

SHIPBUILDING SPEEDED

Construction of Canada's 92 vessels for the Royal Canadian Navy is progressing with all possible speed at 16 points across Canada. Steam heating is being installed in the ships, an innovation expected to cut down colds, influenza and pneumonia among the crews.

TO CONSERVE FISH OILS

Recognizing that fish oils with a vitamin content, when fortified with vitamins A and D, can be a good substitute for Cod Liver Oil, the Government has moved to restrict export from Canada of fish livers fish oils, fish liver oils, and fish visceral oils. Export licenses will be withheld unless approved by the Wartime Price and Trade Board.

THE CURRENT today is strong, and there is a tendency for business men to drift with it. Be sure that it will never float back of its own accord. Practical printed matter, so designed and produced to form a vehicle to carry your sales message is a positive insurance against the drift policy. We like to discuss practical sales printing and will cooperate with our experience

Snicklefritz----

Patient: Then treat the dying with a little more respect.

Mrs. Hagg: My husband can't bear opera. The opening bars alone are enough to send him home.
Mrs. Wages: Well, it's the closing bars that send my husband home.

Fred: What's that?

George: Getting up.

How long did it take your wife to learn to drive?

It will be ten years next month.

So you're a man with both feet on the ground, eh? What do you do for a living?

I take orders from a man with both feet on a desk.

Dad, is there any difference between a gun and a machine-gun?

Yes, my son, it is just about the same as if I spoke and then your mother spoke.

We suggest curfew bell along about 9 in the evening. It would make the old folks up and they could help the kids get started off for the evening.

How much are rooms here?

Two dollars and three dollars a day, sir.

What's the difference?

The two dollar rooms are all taken.

Five year old Arthur woke at three o'clock in the morning.

"Tell me a story, mother," he begged.

"Quiet, dear," she replied, "Daddy will be in soon and tell us one."

There was a day when the housewives bought the faraway "bargain" in the belief that it was good business to save a few pennies. But experience taught them a few things.
